3-ON-3 BASKETBALL TOURNAMENT AT WEST CAMPUS

A member of one of the girls' teams shoots a layup during one of the games at the Seventh Annual 3-on-3 Wild, Wild West Basketball Tournament held July 23 on the DMACC West Campus.

With the courts still wet from a lingering shower and accompanying lightning that delayed the start of the competition a couple of hours, a young male dribbles toward the hoop. A total of 80 teams participated in the daylong event. The exact amount of money raised is still being determined.

At times the action was congested in the lane and at other times spread throughout the court. The action was intense, but winners and losers congratulated each other at the end of each contest.

Nine-year-old Max Hodapp of Johnston caught a seven-inch bluegill during the fishing derby at the 3-on-3 Wild, Wild West Basketball Tournament held on the DMACC West Campus. Not to be outdone, Max's five-year-old brother, Collin Hodapp, reeled in a nice 17-inch, two-and-a-half pound bass. Minutes later, 10-year-old Ethan Kinneer of Des Moines landed another 17-inch, two-and-a-half pound bass. All three anglers received trophies in the fishing derby.

PIONEERS CONNECTION

JULY MEETING AT BOONE

The Boone Campus welcomed our group of DMACC Pioneers with a great meal, enjoyable program and tour. Boone retiree Rich Finnestad and Boone Associate Provost Brian Green were on hand to greet everyone and offer an update on recent Boone activities.

Sandi Johnson, the longest-serving DMACC employee, joined us for lunch and the program. Sandi remains an active staff member on the Boone Campus, beginning her career with Boone Junior College even before it was part of the current DMACC system.

Brian arranged for several of the campus athletic coaches to visit with the Pioneers. They included Dan Fitzgerald, baseball coach; Steve Krafcisin, women's basketball coach and Orv Salmon, athletic director. Boone now has eight sports programs and is the only DMACC campus to offer competitive athletics. It is evident that the coaches are very dedicated to the athletes but also provide a significant emphasis on academics. GO BEARS!

Everyone was reminded to contact Marcia Johnson, 515-964-3824, to volunteer for the garage sale.

Our meeting concluded with a tour of the Courter Center, Library, new bookstore and academic achievement center.

FINAL NOTES:

Thanks to those of you who are going to help with the Garage Sale. It takes an army of Pioneers to make this event successful. We will have work-study help to lift and carry heavy items. Hy-Vee is loaning us some grocery carts to load up and deliver items to their places in the building. We don't expect anyone to perform herculean tasks. The more volunteers we have, the lighter the load.

PIONEER PRESIDENT, Dee Johnson
