Hello boys & girls! It's time for Mr. Bill to go to school!

"Oh no! You mean I have to have my transcripts from the other school first?"

"Oh no Mr. Silberhorn! What do you mean I have to take general chem. and intro to algebra too? Oh no! This is too much for me. I'm going to play some pool!"

"This is more like it!"

"Oh no! Don't shoot yet! I'm not ready! Oh no!"

"Oh no! Mr. Hands, what are you going to do?"

"Good-bye 'til next year Mr. Bill!"

To Our Readers

Dear Readers,

I wish to take this opportunity to say "hi" to all of you who are back this year as sophomores, as well as to those of you who are here as freshmen.

I hope your summer was as enjoyable a one as mine was. Personally though, I am glad to be back in school. I suspect all of you would not agree with me but...

Also, I want to offer each of you an invitation. There seems to be a general belief around school that, in order to contribute to the Bear Facts, one must be on the staff, or at least a journalism major. Not so. Anyone can submit an article for publication whether they are a first quarter freshman, a last quarter sophomore or an instructor/administrator. If you have complaints or criticisms, if you feel something should be changed—or at least looked at from another perspective, or even if you like something here at school, please feel free to write about it. There may also be events or happenings which we, on the Bear Facts staff do not cover and, again, please let us know about these so we can cover them either now or in the future.

If you do write an article, the best way to get it to one of the editors is by either leaving it in Bob Person's mailbox in the office, or by giving it to myself or Rick Vogel (that is, I guess, if you know who we are.) So come on—accept my invitation and let everyone at school know how you feel about whatever it is that concerns you. After all—this is your school.

Sincerely,

Vicki Edwards, co-editor

Boone Rotary Scholarship Benefit

Plans for the eighth Annual Steak Fry sponsored by the Boone Rotary Club scheduled for Monday evening, October 8 are now complete according to Dan Reece and Ron Rosengreen, co-chairmen for the event. Proceeds go to the DMACC scholarship fund.

Serving will be continuous from 5:30 to 8:00 p.m. at the Community College gym with selected Rotarians and Rotary Aims serving as host and hostess for the evening. Two serving lines will feature a menu of scrumptious eight-ounce top sirloin steaks, baked potato, tossed salad, roll, butter, coffee or milk. Entertainment commencing about midway through the evening will be provided by the College Choir directed by Jan Betten.

This year there will be an added bonus for steak eaters. A drawing will be held to give away two season tickets to DMACC Bear basketball home games and two one year youth memberships to the Boone County Y. Tickets may be purchased at the Community College office, from any Boone Rotarian, or from Sandi Johnson, ticket chairman at $4.50 per person. Faculty, staff and students may also purchase Rotary Steak Fry tickets from Sandi Johnson in the main office at the Boone Campus.

Write Your Mother!

"When was the last time you wrote your mother?" asks the ad seen around the Brown University Campus. "For a small fee, we will write your personal letters with the elegance of Hawthorne, the wit of Thurber, and poetry of Whitman."

The ads tout a new business formed by two Brown students. For a $3 fee, Pens Impaled, In. (Box 800, Brown University, Providence, R.I. 02912) will write a series of four letters and send them to the correspondent of the client's choice.

The firm has three basic categories of letter, explains co-founder Louis Del Guercio. In addition to the basic letter to mother, the firm offers a derogatory letter than can be sent to friends who have been lax about corresponding and a lover's letter that is decidedly risque, according to Del Guercio.

Both Del Guercio and his partner Andrea Gaines share in the creative chore of writing new letters for each category every week. The letters are in a humorous vein and the authors let their imaginations run freely. The letters are not likely to be taken for real correspondence; a letter from a son to his mother, for example, might close with, "Remember Oedipus and Electra; we still love each other."

Pens Impaled clients may compose a few lines to be added as a postscript, but they never see the letter that is sent. Del Guercio says this uncertainty about what is being written to correspondents keeps the whole thing more exciting.

Q--My husband was killed in Vietnam. I believe I am financially able to purchase a home. Will the Veterans Administration provide any assistance in this regard?

A--Unmarried widows or widowers of veterans of any period of service occurring since September 16, 1940, whose deaths were service-connected, are eligible for a VA guaranteed home loan. Contact your nearest VA regional office for details.

Q--If I am rated "zero" per cent for a service-connected disability, am I entitled to a Civil Service preference letter?

A--Veterans with an established service-connected disability of "zero" per cent or more are entitled to receive eligibility certification for Civil Service preference.

Q--If my deceased husband was a veteran, and I was in the Army too. Why can't I get a Veterans Administration pension as his survivor and also as a veteran in my own right?

A--Payment of pension to the same person as a veteran and surviving spouse is prohibited under Public Law 95-585.

Q--I am a veteran taking nurses' training in a Veterans Administration Vocational Rehabilitation Program. Will the VA pay for the uniforms I require for the training?

A--VA will not pay for uniforms or other apparel worn instead of ordinary clothing. Apparel or other items needed for protective purposes will be authorized for veterans in vocational rehabilitation programs.

Q--I am a veteran receiving Veterans Administration educational benefits. My remaining entitlement period of three months will end with the fall semester. I would like to terminate my benefits now and use those three months to complete the spring semester. Is this possible?

A--VA regulation 11045 (G) states that a certified period of enrollment may not be interrupted for the purpose of conserving entitlement.

Q--Is tutorial assistance the same under the VA educational assistance program and the VA vocational rehabilitation program?

A--No. Tutorial assistance is limited to $69 per month for a maximum of $828. Under the vocational rehabilitation program, the extent of assistance needed is determined on an individual basis by the VA, school staff and the veteran. Payment is based on the amount of time the veteran needs and the background and qualifications of the tutor.

Q--I am a Vietnam-era veteran with 120 days of active duty. I applied for a Veterans Administration guaranteed home loan two years ago but was denied because of a lack of qualifying service. I heard that the law has changed. Am I now eligible for the loan guaranty?

A--You may now be eligible. The Veterans Housing Benefits Act of 1973 requires only 90 days of active duty for home loan entitlement for Vietnam-era veterans. Service must have been performed between August 5, 1964 through May 7, 1975.

Q--Can a child adopted by a veteran who has permanent and total service-connected disabilities qualify for Veterans Administration educational assistance?

A--Yes. Such an individual is considered the child of the veteran and eligible for benefits until attaining age 26, provided the child is pursuing a course of instruction at an approved educational institution.

New Things At School
By Steve Kramer

Now that fall is definitely upon us and September is indeed the month, the college scene is undoubtedly in swing. Academics, sports, intramurals, the usual parties and activities are all represented here at the Boone Campus. Waking up for an 8:00 class usually is not fun, but interesting. For a little rest and relaxation, the library and lounge are often available.

We interviewed Dean Byron Hamilton to get his impression of the new Bear faces. "This year's first quarter is running by really smooth. Each fall I doubt if the students will be as good as the year before. These students are the best bunch I've ever seen. They take pride in the school and respect the equipment the school provides."

This is the second largest enrollment at the Boone Campus. There are 550 students attending credit courses. The registrar has recently enrolled other students, mainly adults in Fall Adult Education classes. These classes began September 17. A few of the nine classes are new. These classes will enroll about 150 students. One can take anything from Business Management to Public Safety Communications.

The school built a storage building this summer which will serve as a place to keep equipment and other school belongings. The shed is next to the gymnasium and last year's students may have noticed it. The only other change on the facilities was the painting of various rooms.

Boone has one new professor in the mathematical field. Mr. Mark Alberts will be filling the position while another professor is taking a leave of absence. He is currently working at Iowa State on his doctorate degree. Mark has also taught at other DMACC campuses. Mr. Byron Hamilton notes, "we have a great faculty and staff."

The extra-curricular options are always open for those who find the need to recreate and break the strain of academic demands. Already this fall there have been softball games. "We have one of the finest intramural programs," observes Mr. Hamilton. Pat Long, a former DMACC graduate is heading the program. She is majoring in recreation at Iowa State. The sports programs are always very fine and provide lots of action. Many other student activities will be upcoming. The Director of Student Activities and student body will be planning various events to help round out the college life.

Is There A Greenhouse in Your Future?

Average carbon dioxide concentrations in the Earth's atmosphere continued an upward climb, rising 1.5 parts per million (ppm) during 1978, reports the National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration. The level is now 335 ppm, versus 314 ppm 20 years ago. Principal cause: burning fossil fuels. Because carbon dioxide traps incoming solar radiation, a "greenhouse effect" of increased temperatures could result from higher gas levels. Some climate experts say that if we continue burning carbon-based fuels at the present rate, carbon dioxide concentrations could double by 2035, raising average Earth temperatures by as much as five degrees Fahrenheit. Drastic changes in crop growing conditions and sea level rises of 15 feet or more, due to melting polar ice caps, are possible outcomes.

Federal energy policy, which calls for doubling coal use by 1980 and greatly increasing the use of synthetic fuels, could accelerate the process so that some effects could be felt by 1990. The U.S., which accounts for one-fourth of the carbon dioxide released into the atmosphere does not regard the gas as a pollutant.

What Goes On Here In The Summer? The Answer Is...

By Vicki Edwards

As those who attend school here during the summer quarter can attest to, there is really not a whole lot that goes on. Most of the teaching is done by "staff" which means someone from Iowa State (they are excellent teachers, I might add.) The library and bookstore have limited hours and the lounge is empty more often than not. In fact, there is even a large possibility of taking an undisturbed nap. The janitors are kept busy cleaning the offices and lounge in preparation for the beginning of classes in the fall, and the secretaries and administration are kept just as busy registering new and returning students.

All in all, summer at DMACC is, shall I say, very slow-paced; but if you want to pick up a few of those required credits, summer is a good time in which to do it.

Did I say limited hours? If you sleep until noon, like I sometimes do, you don't use the library in the summer. This makes it kind of difficult to do research for term papers.

Rick Fern came to Boone from Lakewood, Colorado when his dad was transferred here. Rick wanted to try school at a junior college before transferring to a four-year school and chose Boone because he heard it was a good school. He had also heard that job placement here was excellent.

Rick registered with real estate as his major but when they changed it to Ankeny, he changed to business management. Rick's plans are to take business here and then transfer to a four-year school where he will major in real estate.

Darla Scharfenderg is a human services major. This will prepare her for work such as being a social worker, an assistant to a psychologist, working in a drug addiction program or as a welfare case worker. She plans on receiving her AA degree here and then transferring to a four-year college—possibly Iowa State.

Darla has two children and is working as well as going to school and has found the teachers and administrators very understanding in helping her with her schedule. She has been out of school for ten years and has found it hard to readjust to studying after that time. She adds, however, that the people and the atmosphere at DMACC are terrific.

"I like school because I feel good when I come here," is how Mohammad Wishahi described going to school at DMACC. Mohammad is from Jerusalem and has been in the U.S. for two years. Before attending school here, he went to school in Texas. He says the students and teachers are much friendlier in Boone.

Mohammad is an engineering major and he plans on going to Iowa State when he is done here at DMACC.

Is Launched

Amateur photographers have a new source to advance their darkroom techniques.

Braun North America, a division of the Gillette Company, has launched the Paterson Darkroom Club. A membership fee is $5.00 for one year, or $8.50 for two years. A member receives a kit of useful information: a layout for a darkroom, a quarterly publication, written by professional photographers, and a "how-to" book on the darkroom.

There are some other useful items, such as a darkroom doorknob sign to advise if one can enter the room, or should wait. Identification labels for chemicals and trays are also included in the kit. But one of the more valuable items is a membership card which provides a 10% rebate on darkroom merchandise bought at a photo store.

Interested? Write: Paterson Darkroom Club, 211 E. 43rd Street, New York, N.Y. 10017.

College Photographers To Gain Recognition

The college photographer is about to gain a degree of recognition. That's a promise from the Paterson Darkroom Club, a national organization of some 12,000 amateur photographers.

"Unfortunately, too many college students go unrecognized for their accomplishments," a Paterson spokesman said. "Aside from sports, there are not many activities that allow a student to receive recognition, even if the recognition is strictly personal.

"Some students excel in music, acting, photography and other activities that may shape their future vocation," the spokesman continued. "Since the Paterson Darkroom Club is involved with photography, we believe it would be an excellent public service if we were to award a special Certificate of Recognition to students who have news pictures published in their college newspapers."

To receive a Certificate of Recognition, a student must submit a black and white copy of his or her news photo, along with a tear sheet from the college newspaper in which the picture was published. Name and address should be included on the back of the picture. Both picture and tear sheet should be mailed to the Paterson Darkroom Club, 211 East 43rd Street, New York, N.Y. 10017.

There is no deadline when pictures should be received. They can be submitted at any time during the next twelve months.

"This is not a contest," said the Paterson Darkroom Club spokesman. "Editors of college newspapers will have passed judgment on the pictures, and this is sufficient to warrant a Certificate of Recognition for the student." There is a chance that some photos may be published in the national newsletter, Paterson Developments, it was said.
Summer Students Held Captive

by Linda Ensley

Dateline: Tuesday, July 17, DMACC Campus, Boone, Iowa.

Today, armed with only a spatula, Mr. George Silberhorn successfully overpowered the Boone campus summer student population. Backed up by the rest of the administration, who were armed with cans of pop, bags of potato chips, hamburger patties, and jars of pickles, ketchup, and mustard, Mr. Silberhorn and associates held the students captive for the better part of the lunch hour.

The students, sensing there might be some kind of confrontation from the handwriting on the wall, came armed with empty stomachs and parched throats. It was fairly quiet throughout the height of the battle while Mr. Silberhorn tried to show he could produce hamburgers broiled over a charcoal grill faster than the students could devour them. Later, an end to the siege was called, but the warning was out... for Wednesday.

Dateline: Wednesday, July 18, DMACC Campus, Boone, Iowa.

Action continued today on the Boone campus while the administration held the students hostage for the second day in a row. Armed with more empty stomachs and parched throats, the students attempted unsuccessfully to eat more food than the administration could give them. The students finally surrendered to the administration with cries of "Please, no more!" and "Oh, am I ever stuffed..."

All involved in the confrontation are reported doing well.

Above: The students had little choice but to succumb to the overwhelming power of the spatula under Mr. Silberhorn's control.

Above, below, and right: Scenes during the height of the confrontation. As you can see, student resistance has by this time been dealt a fatal blow.

Above: Anonymity was the plea from some students involved.

Left: The Nursing Brigade was on hand to handle any injuries or overdoses. There were no injuries, but some mild cases of hamburger and potato chip overdosing were reported.

A Summer Job
By Vicki Edwards

Sometimes, that which we attempt to learn in the classroom takes us outside of the classroom for more advanced learning. Such is the case of Joy Hildreth, as well as the other students in the Administrative Secretary program. This summer is the fourth quarter for these students, which means an internship in an office performing the various duties which will be expected of them when they graduate and find a job. For her internship, Joy was chosen to work in the office here at DMACC. Her duties include everything from typing and filing to taking shorthand. Joy can take shorthand at "only 30 words a minute."

Joy, and the rest of the secretarial students also have classes this summer which meet on Tuesday and Thursday mornings. They have a typing IV class and also a secretarial seminar in which they discuss their various jobs. After Joy graduates from DMACC, her plans are to find a job working in an office at an elementary school, preferably around Rockwell City which is where she is from.

Nurses Call The Shots
By Vicki Edwards

This is how second quarter nursing student, Jeannie Thomas spends her spare time (when she has any, that is.) The rest of the time, she is learning what it really like to be an LPN at the various hospitals in the towns surrounding Boone. Jeannie and the other nursing students are either assigned their own patient, on whom they perform such duties as giving shots, or they observe surgery for which they need a strong stomach.

Four months ago the Bear's suffered a 2 to 1 setback to Indian Hills in the championship game of the sub-regional tournament. That loss ended the baseball campaign of 1979.

"What is in store for the 1980 spring campaign? Nobody can be sure, but if statistics talk the Bears will be in the thick of things," said Coach John Smith. "I can't say enough about him."

Tim Anderson will be back to play center field. Tim has good quickness and an excellent arm. He only batted .216 in the last campaign but was fourth in on base percentage and second in bases on balls. Also Tim was second in stolen bases with 13.

"I learned a lot last year," said Tim. "This year I'll cut down on my strikeouts because I'll choke up and be a better hitter with two strikes." "I think I can be a .300 hitter this year!"

Doug "Buc" Pearson will be back at third base this year. Doug who fell into a slump last year during the middle of the season was hot hot during the final three weeks. His outstanding performances both on defense and at the plate enabled the Bear's to move onto the championship game.

Buc's batting average was a solid .299 last year. He hit five doubles, one triple and five home runs. Buc also had 40 RBI's to his credit.

"He's a sure handed third sacker with a strong arm," comments Smith. "He'll be a major factor in our success this year."

One player that will make a lot of difference this year will be Jim Morrissey. Jim was here last fall but signed a pro-contract and wasn't around to play during the spring.

When asked why he came back to Boone, Jim stated, "I needed to brush up on my skills, refine them and improve." "I came back with the idea of getting another shot. I believe with some hard work it's possible."

"I'm looking forward to our spring season and I think we'll have an excellent team with a lot of depth."

Jim is an outstanding athlete. In high school Jim was an All Stater two years in baseball, All State in football and basketball.

Jim has incredible speed for a catcher an excellent arm and a quick and powerful bat. "I'm glad Noriss is back," states Smith. "He sure could have used him last spring."

Andy Boehm last spring had to make a big adjustment. After Jim Morrissey signed with the Phillies the Bear's were without a catcher. Coach Smith asked Andy if he'd like to try. Andy had never caught before but did a fine job all spring.

Jim Morrissey

Andy batted .231 last spring collected 10 bases on balls, had 12 RBI's and hit one home run.

Andy's biggest asset all year was his fine defensive play. "Andy is a very versatile player," smiles Smith. "He'll help this year and we'll be able to find a spot for him to fit in."

PITCHING DEPARTMENT LOOKS STRONG

Coach Smith will be looking for the four sophomore starting pitchers to provide the backbone of the Bear's staff this spring.

The nucleus of the staff will consist of Bill Hadaway, Daryl Hansen, Jeff Schutt, and Rick Vogel.

Bill Hadaway was the most consistent performer last year. Bill's three win, three loss record doesn't tell the story. Bill owned an E.R.A. of 1.29. Every game he threw was a tight game. It was just a matter of bad luck to have three losses. With any luck at all Bill could have been 6-0.

Daryl Hansen

Daryl Hansen last year did not have a good year. He won one game and lost three. Daryl is the hardst thrower coming back, he has an excellent fastball and a slider. His biggest problem last spring was control and hitting the strike zone. In 36 innings pitched, Daryl allowed 33 free passes.

"If Daryl can consistently get the ball over the plate this year he'll be tough," states Smith. "He could be one of the best around, but he'll really have to work."

Jeff Schutt

Jeff Schutt is the only left-handed pitcher returning from last year. Jeff last year was two and three. Not a super season last year but Jeff has all the tools to make it happen. He has a live fastball, a good assortment of breaking pitches and a wicked pick-off to first base.

Rick Vogel

Returning Letterman

Mike Fenny will also be returning. Last year Mike was a spot reliever. Mike only threw nine innings last year but did a fine job as he supported a 1-0 record.

This year Mike is not throwing instead he is playing in the outfield. Thus far he is playing very well. He has been hitting the ball very well and has a strong and accurate arm.

Other sophomores whom Coach Smith feels will stabilize the team and play a big part in the Bear's success are Terry Kurash, Steve Keller, John Robinson and Kelly Zerr.

"Terry Kurash, should get a lot of playing time at shortstop," says Smith, "as will John Robinson behind the plate. Steve and Kelly could help immensely this spring on the mound."

Coaching Smith thinks this is going to be the year, and why not? Faith in oneself and faith in one's team can go a long way.

GOAL NOT IMPOSSIBLE

Refine the best in the nation is a dream.

It is a dream every athlete and every coach has, but here in Boone, Iowa it doesn't have to be just a dream.

Coach Smith thinks this is going to be the year, and why not? Faith in oneself and faith in one's team can go along way.

Coach's Corner

With Coach John Smith

By Rick Vogel

"The Boone Campus Bears opened their fall baseball season with 41 candidates reporting which is the most in the school's history. My expectations are running high because of the record number of sophomores reporting (15), 10 which are returning letterman. They should provide the all important leadership that is needed to produce not just a winning team, but a championship ball club."

"Like every fall there are a number of scrimmages planned. We'll hook up with Iowa State a couple of times, Ellsworth and Grand View. Plus we will scrimmage among ourselves. This will give me an opportunity to see the freshman react to good competition."

"When people ask me if I'm excited and looking forward to this spring, I say you darn right I am."

"With a lot of hard work this fall and winter we can make it to the national championship this year. We are going to be solid at every position and our chuckers will do the job."

"Last year we were 22-15 and 1. The best record ever at Boone. Plus we broke a lot of records. This year we have our key players back and people to help them. What can I say except the people we play better be ready."

"I'll end with this short note. Another reason why we'll be good came May 9th when the sub-regional tournament starts will be due to the simple fact that we'll be playing the finest competition available all season long."

THE MISSING Season:
GOLF

By Shelley Manning

I'm sure for a lot of you, it is confusing to figure out what sport season it actually is. You turn on the T.V. Monday evening to find the Dallas Cowboys, on the weekends you find the Dodgers tearing up Cincinnati; yet, you walk over to the gym to find the basketball team practicing. Wait! One sport is missing! What happened to the ever so successful fall golf team? It has floated in mid-air, temporarily anyway.

I spy temporarily because plans to pick up the sport this spring are expected. The golfers returned this fall to find themselves in somewhat of a pickle. Last year, Charlie Wilson, a Boone resident coached the boys; however, this year the boys find themselves coachless.

The Bears have several fine prospects to open the spring season. Wayne Hasek will return to Boone for his second year. Wayne has played some blazing rounds, and is looking forward to the spring season. Dan Reed, Todd Ruck, and Bob Mengis will also help in constructing a well-nucleated team.

The Bears have several fine prospects to open the spring season. Wayne Hasek will return to Boone for his second year. Wayne has played some blazing rounds, and is looking forward to the spring season. Dan Reed, Todd Ruck, and Bob Mengis will also help in constructing a well-nucleated team. It appears that not having a coach did not halt the team in itself. All the surrounding teams cancelled their fall schedule also, for unknown reasons.

The golfers were able to participate in one meet this fall, before the program was terminated. The team of four traveled to the Estherville Country Club, where they competed with Wartburg and Iowa Lakes.

Wayne Hasek blazed a 74 to lead the Bears. Dan Reed fired an 84, followed closely by Todd Ruck's 85. Bob Mengis shot an 87 to balance out the strokes for the Bears. Over all, as a team, Boone finished third.

Last year's Bears traveled to Odessa, Texas, where they competed in Nationals for their sixth consecutive year. The Bears stroked a fine finish, placing fifteenth. This was quite an accomplishment for the Bears considering only one other Northern team placed ahead of them.

Yes, the Bears have had some remarkable performances and are anxiously awaiting another. It seems quite strange, for one year the team is participating in Nationals, and the following season the sport is temporarily discontinued. Actually, it is not strange, yet rather sad.

Talking with several of the team members, I found myself very confused. Why has this golf program folded? I can promise you all, it is not lack of interest by the players. Although, little can be done about this situation now, I think in the future it should be looked into more seriously. Several of these boys attending school here to play golf, knowing of Boone's success, and are greeted disappointingly.

Golf is the major carry over sport in life. One is never too old, too short, too heavy and etc. to participate. Golf is also the most overlooked, and unrecognized sport in schools. Why?

Well, you can bet this spring, as soon as the last snowflake melts, the golf team will be swinging into action, ready to capture their seventh consecutive finish in nationals. However, if these excellent weather conditions precede, no man in his right mind would put away his clubs.
