Rockers

Sometimes it's nice to sit and rock and think. Sometimes it's nice to sit and rock. Sometimes it's nice to sit and rock and provide a worthwhile benefit to others. Last week (left to right) Teresa Ray, Bobbi Sweet and Fran Woolsey were among the members of PBL who participated in a 24 hour rock-a-thon in the student lounge. Proceeds from the fundraiser will be donated to the American Heart Association.

Pickin' the flicks

Yentl

Barbra Streisand fans will probably enjoy this one but, I sure didn't. The story is about a early 19th century Eastern European woman who dresses as a boy, she also ugly as a boy, to enter a Yeshiva because she yearns to study the Talmud, which is forbidden for women. The action in the movie stops so Barbra can sing this only lengthens a dull picture. Only if you really like Steisand consider seeing this one. Rated PG for male nudity, talk of going to bed. ★★★

Sudden Impact

Clint Eastwood is out to clean up the streets again in an even more violent action packed film. The story has a very simple outline of vengence administered by lovely Sondra Locke.(of course!) Harry has many notable lines such as "Go ahead, punk, make my day"and also "me and my two friends. Smith and Wesson." If you are a Dirty Harry fan, you'll love this one as he plays a one man killing machine. Nobody does it better than Eastwood. Rated R for tons of violence, strong language, and female nudity. ★★★

Terms of Endearment

If you haven't seen this one yet, don't miss it. Debra Winger, Shirley MacLaine, and Jack Nicholson truly deserve their Oscar nominations for their performances. Debra Winger as an easy-going daughter only enhances Shirley MacLaine's role as she transfers from a lovely young mother to an aging grandmother. Jack Nicholson's role as an over-sexed, beer-bellied, middle-aged batchelor who is a neighbor to MacLaine, was humorously portrayed. The story is based on a mother-daughter relationship. This movie easlily evokes both laughter and tears. An excellent movie by these three and also a fine cast. Rated PG for strong language and sexual language.★★★★★

Tom Johnston

- Forget it ★
- Only if bored ★★
- Worth a look ★★★
- Good movie ★★★★
- Don't miss this one ★★★★★

Economy— college stress

Academic and social pressures on college campuses have long made stress a common problem for students. But contemporary worries such as the economy and unemployment have become the stress-producing agents of the 1980's.

Pressures on students resulting in stress-related illnesses led the University of Virginia in Charlottesville to start seven-week long seminars in stress management last year. A two-credit course in stress management techniques is planned for the fall, university officials said.

According to Mike Stadter, a clinical psychologist at American University in Washington, D.C., many students today suffer immediate financial concerns. "Many students are worried about whether they have enough money to continue their education - they don't have enough time to think about the future," he said.

According to Kathleen Nottage, a registered nurse, stress counseling should begin before college.

Aid, grad meeting

Chris Carney, George Silberhorn and Richard Finnestad will present a joint Financial Aid and Graduation information meeting for students planning to return to DMACC in the Fall of 1984 next Monday and Tuesday.

This meeting is designed to answer many questions about graduation, degree requirements, scholarships and other financial aid for the 1984-85 school year.

Third period classes on Monday, March 5 and Tuesday, March 6 may be dismissed at 10:45, at the discretion of the instructor.

The meetings are set for 10:45-11:10 a.m. in the Auditorium (north).

Correction

In the last issue of Bear Facts a serious omission occurred in the story on the cover.

That story concerned the MASH Bash held to welcome new teachers to the Boone Campus.

The story failed to note that the event was co-sponsored by the Boone Foundation. The event was also sponsored by the Boone Area Chamber of Commerce.

Bear Facts regrets the error.

Spring?

An early taste of spring prompted lighter clothes, dreams of summer and breaks outdoors in the court yard near the south entrance to the main building. The warmer weather was so pleasant some classes were spotted being held under the open sky. Cooler weather prevailed as the week concluded but this little glimpse of the future was tantalizing.

Clupper is Maricopa intern

Dr. Beatrice B. Clupper, chair of communications and humanities at the Boone Campus, is one of 160 community college women nationwide selected for the 1984 Maricopa Internship.

"The program, titled 'Leaders for the '80s' will allow Clupper to enhance her administrative capabilities through participation in a week-long national workshop in Phoenix," according to Dean Kriss Philips.

Dr. Clupper's project is titled "Reaching Out: Developing Community and Community College Linkages."

Dean Philips added that a major objective of Clupper's internship is to make the college and the community more integral to each other.

Alumni group active More education, jobs await DMACC grads

By MIKE KRAFT

Where do students go after they leave DMACC? About 175 students graduate each year. Of these students about 100-125 will go on to a four year school. Most who go on to a four year school go to Iowa State. There are some students who go to UNI after graduation along with Iowa, Drake, Buena Vista, and a variety of other schools. There are very few that choose to go into the armed services. The people who graduate from DMACC after studying their major of nursing, bookkeeping, accounting, secretarial positions, recreation leadership, and computer science usually go right to work.

After graduating from the secretarial department there is usually no problem in placing students for their internship in all of the secretarial programs. If the student will be mobile, there should be no problem in finding a job. The programs usually run two to three semesters long, but when finished the student will be trained in his or her field. They will usually start out earning anywhere from $4 to $5 per hour. Most companies have a probation period to see if the worker is worth more than that. Their training includes "hands on" work with word processing machines, and some computers. Employers are looking for students with good technical skills and communication skills, and that is what they learn at DMACC.

ALUMNI

Regardless of where students go after leaving DMACC one organization exists to keep them together - the DMACC Alumni Association. The DMACC Alumni Association is trying to get a Boone Campus location for Boone alumni students to meet. There are five organizers who are in charge, they are Bruce Conlin, Bob Flynn, Sandi Johnson, Kelly

O'Neal, and Mary Wennerstrum. The Association does a lot for its members, some of the membership benefits include; Alumni Programs and Reunions, use of the College Library, use of Athletic facilities, job placement assistance, intramural sports participation, trips and a 25 percent discount on a variety of different things. Some those are; the Hilton Colliseum, Woodside Golf Course, Toad Valley Golf Course, Drake Basketball and football and Iowa Cubs Baseball.

Along with all the benefits there are also many Alumni activities, they include; Alumni Challenge Phonathon, a bike ride, pig roasts and all-college dances, Homecoming, an Indy 500 trip, and Program Reunions. All the members of the alumni association can participate in all of these activities.

With all these things going on you would think that they wouldn't have time for anything else. That is not the case. They have accomplished many things. They have provided scholarships to DMACC students, they offer broadbased support for DMACC through loyal alumni constituents, and they have an information source where alumni members can keep in touch with fellow graduates and the college.

The goals of the Alumni Association include; to develop DMACC graduate resources throughout the 11 county area for positive and visible promotion of the college's educational and community services. They are also trying to seek out through these graduates methods by which the college can improve educational offerings and services to communities. And finally, they are trying to provide financial support to current students and college programs from those individuals who have benefitted from their past educational experiences at DMACC.

The objectives of the Alumni Association are to increase potential student enrollment, various college programs, provide a source of job placement opportunities, provide financial support to students and college programs, promote community support of DMACC and possible future needs, to provide an avenue to insure that needed program and community services are provided, and to provide a link for helping with the legislative program to insure support and passage of needed legislation.

Changes in Pell Grant

The U.S. Department of Education has issued a final Pell Grant family contribution schedule for 1984-85.

The Student Loan Consolidation and Technical Amendment Act of 1983 directed the department to update the current schedule to take inflation into account.

Previous regulations would have made several changes in the formula that is designed to distribute the grants. Those changes would have increased the basic amount families would be expected to contribute before students could get an award.

The 1983 student aid law, was signed in August by the president. It directs the department to use the current definition of an independent student for the 1984-85 school year rather than the more stringent standards endorsed earlier. The independent student definition is used to compute awards for Pell Grants, Supplemental Grants, College Work-Study and National Direct Student Loans.

For the 1984-85 school year, single students would have to prove they were independent for the preceding two years. Married students would have to meet the standard for 1984.

Boone

Kruse, Shreve reign as King and Queen

BY MIKE GARVEY

On Saturday Feb. 11 Pat Kruse and Joni Shreve were crowned King and Queen at the Boone Campus Homecoming dance.

The dance held at the Moose Lodge turned out to be a big success. Almost 300 people turned out for the dance and a few of those people were lucky enough to win some door prizes. Prizes included Coors barrels, ZZ Top and Coors painter hats, bottles of wine, and all kinds of shirts. All in all it was one of the most successful Homecoming dances of all time.

Couples danced to the records being spun by Brian Jeffries of KGGO and Jerry James of KSO. Most people were getting crazy on the fast songs, and cuddling on the slow songs. (Aye, Pat!).

Then it was time to name the candidates for King and Queen. Queen candidates included Lisa (B.T.) Bell, Terri Ruhde, Joni Shreve, Allison Mackie, and Shelly Sams. King candidates included Paul Nicklos, Al Abrahamson, Mike Garvey, Pat Kruse, and Theron Moore.

King Patrick Kruse graduated from Boone High School in 1982. Pat is a member of the Bears Basketball team and the Reivers softball team. Pat made the Dean's list last semester and plans to major in Physical Education and Health. He plans on going to school next year either at Iowa State or Stephen F. Austin State University in Nacogdoches, Texas. Pat's hobbies include watching and participating in sports, hang around his friends, and go to night club once in awhile! When asked what he thought about being named Homecoming King Pat responded, 'I knew it was going to be a great night when I saw Felicia Murillo show up.'

Joni Shreve graduated from United Community High School in 1982. Joni is in the Business and Computer program here at Boone. When Joni graduates this May her and her fiance will get married and hopefully move down south. Joni's hobbies include horse back riding, swimming, and water skiing, and just play around outside when it's nice. Joni also plays softball for the Brooks softball in the 'A' league. When asked what she thought about being named Queen Joni replied, 'I had a great time at the homecoming dance and being crowned as Queen was a memorable

Bears are roughed up in February

By Brian Bertini

The Boone Bears had a rough two weeks, winning only one of four contests against Iowa Juco conference foes.

February 10 was the first of four games and they fell to Waldorf, 87-69, despite some fine individual efforts by Mike Hoffman and Jay Sawyer. Mike poured in 25 points to lead the Bears. He hit 10 of 18 from the field and five of eight from the foul line. Jay contributed 16 points and pulled down a solid 12 rebounds to lead the Bears defensively. Johnson and Kennedy added six and eight points respectively.

February 8 proved to be a better night for the Bears as they defeated Creston, 79-73. Mike Hoffman tallied 21 points, followed closely by Alan Slight, who had 20 plus a team leading 15 rebounds. Jay Sawyer had another fine night, netting 14 points and nine rebounds. Slight shot a sizzling 80 percent from the field and a perfect 4 for 4 from the charity stripe. Johnson, Kennedy and Abrahamson combined for 24 points, each adding eight.

In the next game, the Bears again suffered defeat in a high scoring game to Iowa Lakes, 107-95. Despite the loss, the Bears placed five men in double figures. Scoring was led by Mike Hoffman's 29 points. Following Mike were Jim Kennedy with 18, Jay Sawyer and Al Abrahamson, adding 13 each and Alan Slight, finishing up with ten. Slight and Sawyer were a force on the boards, each getting double figures in rebounds. Alan pulled down 16 and Jay ripped off 14.

February 13 found the Bears playing Ellsworth, but ending up on the short end of an 89-63 score. The Bears were led by Jay Sawyer's 23 points, followed by Mike Hoffman and Alan Slight with 13 apiece. The Bears had trouble from the field, shooting only 40 percent, compared to Ellsworth's 59 percent. In the rebounding department, the Bears were led by Slight's 11, Sawyer with nine and Kennedy with five. The Bears' record now stands at 6-16.

A title defense

By Mike Garvey

Reiver—Person or group of persons who loot and pillage.
 Here it is sports fans, what you've all been waiting for, the first annual Reiver Report. This column will give you play by play action of the Reivers, on and off the field. But first I will tell you a little bit about the team.
 This summer will be the second year of Reiver softball, even though the present team has been playing together for about 4 yrs. Our original name was the Brewers, but we switched it to the Reivers after we qualified for our first state tournament.
 Last year the Reivers were forced to play in the Boone 'A' League after winning the 'B' league the 2 previous years. We went 16—0 in our last season in the B league. The competition in Boone's A league is very tough, but the Reivers came through in good shape. We finished in second place, compiling an 18—

4 record. But the Reivers took all the post season honors. We won the 'A' league tournament going through it undefeated. Then we won the biggest tournament of the year, the districts, our second in a row. And by winning the districts, we qualified for our second consecutive open state tournament.
 Also in this column we will talk about some of the Reivers that go to school here. And our first profile will be about Dave Cassotti.
 Dave graduated from Boone High School in 1982 and went to Iowa State last year. Dave decided to transfer to D.M.A.C.C. after he got his 'taste of higher education,' and plus D.M.A.C.C. was alot more affordable and closer to home. Dave's hobbies include watching and participating in sports, being around his friends, and Teresa. Dave plans on transferring to N.W. Missouri State next year and he's going to major in Business.
