4 scholarships to be awarded

The DMACC Alumni Association will award two $500 scholarships and two $500 financial grants to four full-time DMACC students for spring term.

To be eligible for the full-time scholarship award, students must be enrolled for at least 12 credit hours, must have successfully completed 12 hours of credit at DMACC prior to applying for the scholarship, must have a minimum 3.25 grade point average, and have some type of community or collegiate involvement.

To be eligible for the financial grant award, students must have a minimum 2.0 GPA, be enrolled for at least 12 credit hours at DMACC, and have verifiable financial need.

Scholarship and grant application forms are available now in the Alumni Office, Building 5, and the Financial Services Office, Building 1.

Deadline for applications is Wednesday, November 21, 1984. Recipients will be notified prior to Christmas break.

The Alumni Association will conduct a drawing for $150 worth of books and supplies from the Bookstore. Any DMACC student may stop by the Alumni Office and sign-up for a chance to win.

The drawing for this prize will be held when the Scholarship/Grant Committee meets to select the scholarship/grant recipients. There is no cost to sign up.

The Alumni Association would appreciate your assistance in getting the word out to students. If you have any questions, please call Mary Lonsdale at Ext. 376.

Telephone usage

By MARCI WARD

Enrollment is up and so is telephone usage. There are a few rules regarding the use of the campus telephones that students should be aware of.

Emergency calls are fine, but students should avoid having employers and others contact them at school. Also, persons calling should identify the reason for calling.

Outgoing calls may be made on any of the pay phones provided for students' use. Office phones are for the use of the faculty exclusively.

Special permission to a student may be given by an activity sponsor.

Incoming calls to students should be restricted to emergency situations (death, illness, or accident). Students are rarely called out of class to answer a call; they are notified through instructors.

Also, non-emergency phone messages will be posted on lounge bulletin board.
Spring registration plans are under way at Boone Campus.

Roster of advisors listed below

Students, faculty lay plans for spring

With spring semester class work beginning on Monday, Jan. 14, many students and faculty members are now busy planning course schedules that will prepare them for the upcoming registration process. By careful selection of course work students will be able to meet program requirements, degree requirements and transfer requirements on time and in harmony with their career objectives of additional education.

Faculty Advisors and the departments they represent are listed below.

Department of Biological Sciences - Harold Johnson and Bill Ryan.

Department of Business - Ann Jones, Vivian Brandmeyer, John Smith and Becky Harttack.

Department of Chemistry - C. J. Alexander.

Department of English - Bill Berge, Bea Clupper, Sunny Powers and Virginia Silberhorn.

Department of Health and Physical Education - Larry Hughes.

Department of Government - Bruce Kelley.

Department of Mathematics - John Doran.

Department of Nursing - Joan Van Grabow.

Department of Psychology - Bob Taylor.

Department of Recreation - Bill Alley.

Department of Sociology - Lee McNair.

Department of Computer Science - Curt Hill.

Library Areas - Kathy Sheetz and Kris Phillips.

Department of Speech - Jan Aurelius.

Counseling Services and Academic Advising - Rich Finnestad and George Silberhorn.

A list of students and their advisors is posted on the student center bulletin board and in the Administration office. Students desiring advisor changes because of program or academic changes should contact the counseling office of the advisor of their choice.

On-campus job keeps him around town

While many students survive college expenses through off-campus jobs, Mark Disbrowe, a DMACC student majoring in business and computers, has found relief by obtaining on-campus employment.

Mark helps science instructors Bill Ryan and Harold Johnson in many laboratory tasks. These tasks include making agar, which is used for experiments, maintaining a clean laboratory area, and assembling all necessary articles to be used in a lab session.

He has been working since the beginning of the fall semester and usually works approximately ten hours a week.

Mark, a single Boone resident who has been taking classes at DMACC for approximately four years, stated that he enjoys his job. He also enjoys playing pool, partying, and working on his car.
Courter named to DMACC board

By RICH ABRAHAMSON

Lloyd Courter, a native of Boone and practicing attorney, was elected to serve as a Des Moines Area Community College board member. The elections took place earlier this fall.

As the only board member from the Boone area, Mr. Courter said he feels it is important for Boone residents to continue their commitment to the Boone Campus.

He also says it is vitally important to assure the financial health of the Boone Campus and to view the campus as a part of the Boone area heritage.

Responsibilities that he will face as a board member will be the setting of policies and the maintaining of financial stability at DMACC. He will also take part in the approval of new programs and will keep an eye on going monitor on the present ones. Another duty of his will be to approve the issuing of contracts.

This position of board member will not be an entirely new one for Mr. Courter as he served on the Boone Community School board for several years.

Also as a Boone resident he has been active in the Methodist Church, the Boone County Bar Association, and the Boone city JC's.

He was instrumental in the establishing of Deaf Services of Iowa and is general counsel for the Iowa League for the Deaf on a volunteer basis.

Congratulations and good luck to Mr. Courter on his new post.

Opinions

Poor cooperation with Bear staff

One aspect of creating a good college environment is that of cooperation. This is something Boone Campus is definitely lacking. "How?" you ask, well read on.

The paper you are now reading is written and put together by only six students. It requires a lot of time and work to accomplish this task. It could be made easier, however, with the cooperation of the students, faculty, and particularly the administration.

Whether you appreciate this paper or not, the small publication's staff is to make it the best it can be. But, it cannot be done without help from those mentioned above.

Thus far we have had very little cooperation in conducting interviews with the needed people. Either they refuse to take the time to talk to us or they tell us very little, which makes one wonder whether they themselves know what is going on. As can be expected there are a few exceptions to this, but very few.

If you would like to see this paper succeed, please show a little consideration and cooperate for a change. It will not only help the paper, but the college as a whole.

Students abuse Elks

As a Boone Campus student who felt privileged to attend the annual Hog Roast, I was displeased to hear of the theft of two expensive bottles of liquor from the Boone Elks Club.

It will be a shame if the Elks close their doors to those of us who came there not to steal but to have a good time.

Why is it that we never appreciate things until they are taken away from us? Let's hope that this isn't the case with the Elks.

Rich Abrahamson
These are all superlatives that can be used to describe the Boone Campus hog roast and party which was sponsored by the Student Senate and held Wednesday, October 17.

The evening began at the college with an estimated 300 people consuming a first-rate pork meal, accompanied with baked beans, potato salad and buns.

Although the serving of the meal began at 5:30, much preparation was required in order for success.

Troy Wilson, Jon Courter, and Tim Johnson, of the Student Senate, and George Silberhorn of Student Personnel Services labored nine hours over the hot coals in order that the 250 pounds of fresh hams be properly cooked.

Campus instructors Jinny Silberhorn and Connie Booth, along with the basketball cheerleaders, prepared the beans. Harold Johnson and Bill Ryan, also instructors, along with Dr. Sandy Booth carved the meat.

There were also many other faculty members and other volunteers who lent a hand.

Although the meal was completed at 7 p.m., the fun continued on through the night as the Boone Elks opened their doors to the college for a party.

An estimated 350-400 people attended the party and danced to the music of KGGO's Brian Jeffries. The party at the Elk's went strong on through midnight and was finally shut down as the Rotaract Club and several volunteers began the job of cleaning up.

Boone Cagers to start season November 19

By DAVID H. INGHAM

The Boone Campus Bears Basketball team begins the 84-85 season in a Home game against Mason City November 19th at 8:00 p.m.

After only two weeks of practice, Coach Larry Hughes projects a better season than last year (8-18) for the Boone Bears. Only 3 players are returning, Sophomores Alan Slight, Jim Kennedy and Mark Clausen, but the team this year has better shooters, add a deeper bench.

"We'll be very competitive with schools in our conference," Coach Hughes says. "but we may have some problems against the bigger schools with good tall inside men." The Bears tallest man is 6'5" tall.

The Bears will reply on a good running fame and a good pressure defense with a bench of 13 players, which means the games will be fast-paced events.

The Boone Campus Bears Basketball Team is:

Dave Seaman, Dave Skare, Tim Bergman, Ethan Johnson, Steve Hoehaw, Wayne Anderson, Alan Slight, Perry Degroote, Jim Kennedy, Roger Glisson, Rod Martin, Mark Clausen, Warren Jones

"Curious Savage" to begin Dec. 7 at Boone DMACC auditorium

By RICH ABRHAMSON

The DMACC production of the John Patrick play entitled "The Curious Savage" is now underway. The play, which will be presented December 7 and 8 at 7:30 p.m. in the Boone Campus auditorium, is being directed by Terri Acri.

The play will be set at an establishment called "The Cloisters," which can be easily described by saying one word. Sanitarian. Unlike most sanitarians, "The Cloisters" provides its tenants with a very homey and family-type atmosphere.

Excitement is aroused at "The Cloisters" when a new member to the somewhat youthful and close-knit group arrives.

Ethel Savage, a very wealthy, witty, and clever widow in her 70's is strongly persuaded by her stepchildren to make residence here. Their intentions are far from good as their goal is to have Ethel declared insane. The reason? If she is proven to be insane her millions will be turned over to her greedy stepchildren.

Is she insane? Will she become insane? How will the members of "The Cloisters" receive her and what kind of affect will she have on them? But more importantly, will the stepchildren receive her riches?

Cast Members Include: Florence, Elizabeth Meyers; Fairy May, Lisa Howard; Mrs. Paddy, Bridget McMullen; Mrs. Wilhelmina, Janette Kalem; Lily Belle, Loralee; Ethel Savage; Lisa Larson; Hannibal, Tony Jacobson; Jeffrey, Curtis Sloan; Titus, Luis Herrara; Samuel Savage, Mark Pritchard; and Dr. Emmet, Wayne Anderson.

Director named for fall production

By ALAINA KNUTE

A new drama production director has been hired for the fall production. Terri Acri, who lives in Des Moines, has filled this position.

Acri, a full-time bookkeeper, has had 15 years of involvement in drama productions. This year's production will be "The Curious Savage" by John Patrick. Auditions were held October 15 and 16. The play contains eleven speaking parts with six roles having major responsibilities.

"The Curious Savage" is a one-set play and a graded activity for the students. The production dates will be December 7 and 8.

In previous years, the responsibility of drama productions was that of the drama instructor. But at the present time Boone Campus does not have such a person. Substitutes have been teaching the classes a drama instructor would normally teach.

When the position of drama instructor was advertised last August there were no qualified applicants. The position is still open and applications will be taken through November 30.

Hopefully by spring semester there will be a person for this job. The requirements are: four sections of speech and drama, a master's degree in speech or the equivalent, six graduate hours in dramatic arts, communication arts and English, one year of full-time teaching experience, and experience in directing drama productions.

Need money? Enter contest

Are you in need of money? Well, this might just be your answer.

Des Moines Area Community College is once again sponsoring its Creative Writing Contest.

The prizes include scholarships of $600 for first place, $300 for second place and cash awards of $100 for the best story and the best poem as well as $50 prizes for runners up in each of those categories.

The only eligibility requirement is that entrants be enrolled at DMACC for the fall semester. Each entrant is limited to one prize.

Award-winning manuscripts, including those that win honorable mentions, may be published in Expressions magazine. All work will be judged anonymously.

Participants must submit at least three original manuscripts and may send no more than five. There are no guidelines as to what the topics can be. The students entering the contest are free to choose in submitting their poetry, narrative pieces or personal essays. Many entries in previous years have been assignments from composition classes.

Works may be submitted anytime until December 17, 1984. Manuscripts must be typed and accompanied by a single cover sheet including the titles of the pieces, the author's name, college program of study, home address and a signed statement worded as follows:

"The following pieces of writing are solely my own work. I am currently a student at DMACC (if you are interested in scholarships, add that you plan to be enrolled in fall, 1985). I do not object to the publication of my writing if it is properly acknowledged."

Each work should be titled, but do not put your name on it because each will be tagged with your individual entrant number to insure your anonymity for judging.

Send your entries to DMACC Creative Writing Contest, in care of R.W. Chapman, contest coordinator, Public and Human Services Department, Bidg. 2, Ankeny Campus, 2006 S. Ankeny Blvd., Ankeny, Iowa 50021.

Rotaract holds pot luck

Rotaract and its sponsor, Mr. Lee McNair, kicked off a new year on October 5th with a get acquainted pot luck dinner at the Boy Scout Cabin in McHose Park.

A meeting was held October 10th for an election of this year's officers. Officers elected are as follows; Char McHase, President; George Ann Malney Cleaveland, Vice-President; Cathy Tinger, Secretary; Lorene Johnson, Treasurer; Linda Martelli, Historian, Eileen Foley, Assistant Historian.

Business matters discussed at the October 10 meeting were a clean up of the east college parking lot on October 17th and assisting with the clean up of the student lounge following the Student Senate's annual hog roast.

Rotaract members also assisted the Boone Rotary Club with their annual steak fry.
