Enrollment Drops At DMACC

Fewer students enrolled this fall at Des Moines Area Community College, but they registered for more courses than a year ago.

The total full and part-time students enrolled at DMACC’s four campuses is 1,882, compared with 9,056 last fall, a 2.2% drop.

But the number of credit hours the students are taking rose by 3.1% from 73,390 a year ago to 76,184 credit hours this year, according to Lynn Albrecht, manager of student records and services, Ankeny Campus.

The average number of credit hours per student increased slightly over last year to 9.5 credits. To be considered full-time, a student must take a minimum of 12 credit hours per semester, while a part-time student could be registered for only one three-hour course.

The number of full-time students compared with the number of part-time students was not available.

The Ankeny Campus had the largest enrollment with 6,108 students; the Urban Campus enrolled 1,000 students; Boone Campus, 601; and Carroll, 173.

“Come Blow Your Horn” by TERRI FAIRCHILD

This year’s Boone Campus fall theatre production is Neil Simon’s comedy, “Come Blow Your Horn,” with shows Friday, Dec. 6 and Saturday, Dec. 7 in the auditorium.

“Come Blow Your Horn” is a modern comedy involving a 31-year-old playboy named Alan and his 21-year-old, somewhat timid, brother Buddy.

Cast members for “Come Blow Your Horn” include Todd Houchin as Alan, Gary Clausen as Buddy, Jon Zunkel as Father, Dee Harvey as Connie, Lisa Larson as Moon, Chris Besler as Peggy and Monica Post as Gussie.

Kay Mueller is director of the production.

A lot of work goes into the play as rehearsals are held up to three hours a night, four nights a week. Additional time is spent building the set and working with props and costumes, Mueller said.

The summer leaves have lost their summer disguises to the masques of fall.

The wind is swift through the trees
I sit in the baring shade thinking sometimes the smell of snow touching my cheeks
but left undecided

Unsure
as the scent of growing grass in the dead yellow

The wind is swift through the trees

Sudden
I’m sure
The birds prepare to journey south
They feel the coming of coldness

The wind is swift through the trees
And I’m filled with anticipation even though I know it will bring the emptiness of winter.

DMACC Receives
Title III Grant

DMACC will receive $199,843 this year under the Title III Instruction Aid Program provided by the Department of Education in Washington, D.C. The amount boosts the college’s funding under Title III to $767,853 for the past four years. Title III allows colleges to “do things institutionally we normally would not do ...to tackle problems that are somewhat risky, but have a good chance of success,” according to Steve Goode, project coordinator, Ankeny Campus.

This year’s grant will be used for high technology and for international trade technology. The high technology aspect of the grant will allow the college to retrofit existing courses to stay current. The international trade portion of the money will be used to offer language courses in Chinese and Japanese, and to provide advanced level international business courses, Goode said.

The grant will be administered by the Developmental Services Division.

Cheer Squad Involved
In Many Activities

by TERRI FAIRCHILD
You may not realize it, but DMACC’s cheerleaders and drill team members do much more than provide support for Bear basketball players, although that is one of their main objectives.

The cheerleaders cheer for men’s and women’s basketball teams and the drill team provides halftime entertainment at the games.

However, the squads are involved in many other activities throughout the school year. Although they are partially funded by the Student Senate, they hold various fund raisers to provide money for uniforms and shoes.

The group conducts two or three bake sales during the school year and holds an annual Christmas auction in the Campus Center. Members bring items from home and other merchandise is donated by various area businesses which is auctioned off to students.

A community project in which the squads are involved is playing “elves” for the Boone Chamber of Commerce Christmas promotions.

The squads are also looking forward to sponsoring a cheerleading clinic for the area grade schools this year. In addition, the DMACC cheerleaders also go to area high schools each year to hold clinics and help in judging high school cheerleading tryouts.

Most of the money raised from this year’s fund raisers will be used to buy a new Bear’s mascot uniform. The uniform under consideration will cost from $400 to $700.

Anyone interested in wearing the mascot uniform for the 1985-86 basketball season should contact Jinny Silberhorn, cheerleader/drill team sponsor.

Pre-registration
Students may begin schedule planning with advisors and complete pre-registration for spring semester at Boone Campus, according to Rich Finnstad.

Don’t Park in the Fire Lanes

All Boone Campus students, employees and campus guests should take note that all areas designated as “no parking” in the fire lanes will be stringently enforced.

All vehicles parked in the areas clearly marked “fire lane” are subject to being towed away at the owner’s expense at anytime, day or night, according to Dean Kris Phillips.

“‐The Boone police will help regulate this parking situation,” Phillips said.

They are currently selling candy bars and sponsoring bake sales every other week in the Campus Center to raise money for a November trip to St. Louis, where the regional leadership conference will be held.

The group is also looking forward to a trip to the state leadership conference in Mount Pleasant in April.

PBL would like to become more active in DMACC-Boone Campus and in the Boone community, according to Effert. They are currently involved in community activities such as making visits to area nursing homes and adopting grandparents in those homes.

PBL welcomes new members, and any business student interested in joining should contact Mary Jane Green, an officer, or any PBL member.

Winterizing Pays

The cold winter months take a toll on any motor vehicle. To save time, money, and frustration, AAA Iowa recommends specific winterizing programs for all vehicles.

The winterizing process starts with an engine tune-up. Have a competent mechanic inspect the electrical and ignition systems, timing, and emission control devices. A tune-up will pay for itself by improving fuel economy and will decrease chances of getting stranded in Iowa's bone-chilling winter weather.

If the vehicle's cooling system was not flushed clean last year, now is the time to have it done. After the system has been flushed, it should be filled with the proper solution of anti-freeze and water (usually about 50-50 in Iowa).

Belts should be replaced at least every four years. Check hoses and clamps for leakage. Leaks are more likely to be detected when the engine is warm. Hoses should be replaced when they become brittle, soft, or worn.

The battery should be tested for charge level and condition. Cables and terminals must be clean and free of corrosion. A mixture of baking soda and water makes a good cleaning solution. If corrosion and wear are extreme, cables should be replaced.

Lubricating oil and the oil filter should be changed in accordance with the manufacturer's recommendations. Consult the vehicle owner's manual. To make starting easier, the recommended weight of oil should be used for replacement. If light cannot be seen through an air filter held up to a window or light, the filter needs to be replaced.

The owner's manual will provide instructions on how to check the vehicle's automatic transmission, brake, and power steering fluid levels.

The windshield washer fluid should be replaced with a solution that will not freeze in extreme cold. (It is wise to carry extra washer solution in the trunk.)

The hot rays of summer probably left their mark on windshield wiper blades. If the blades are dried out or cracked, they should be replaced.

Run the heater and defroster through all settings. If the heat doesn't seem adequate, have the thermostat checked.

Door locks can be protected from moisture and freeze-up by spraying dry lubricant into them. Lights, inside and out, should be checked. Burnt out bulbs and defective switches should be replaced. Replacing broken or cracked lenses will help prevent corrosion of sockets caused by grime and road salt.

Fully winterized vehicles make winter driving more trouble-free, and in Iowa, we need all the help we can get.

Library Book Sale

This year's library book sale went well, according to Louise Payton, head librarian. Payton estimates there were between 200 - 230 books sold, netting $40. The money will be used to purchase new materials.

There were not as many books sold this year as last year because there were fewer materials available to sell. "Overall, I was very pleased with this year's sale," Payton said.

Books not sold were donated to Planned Parenthood.

Slam Corner
by MARC WOLEVER
The Bear Facts is adding a bright spot to the sports pages this year.
"Slam Corner" will be written by staff writers Marc Wolever and Guy Meeker. The column will be an opinion story or poll based on national or area sports. Guy and Marc expect comments, replies, complaints, and suggestions on their columns. Just write them down and place in Jill Burkhart's mailbox in the library, or contact Marc or Guy. Everyone must be curious as to how the Iowa Hawkeyes can be rated Number One in the nation when their first two opponents were Division I schools.
How about them Cyclones? You wonder how they fill their stadium to capacity every game! Well, it's a nice place to meet your friends on Saturdays and party.
Nebraska fans should be on edge this year. True, they manage to play more competitive teams like New Mexico and win by 34 points but those diehard Husker fans better buckle up for a challenging year. Will the Huskers slip out of the Top Ten for the first time in 10 years? Probably, if they lose more than two conference games.
Johnson Active at Campus

by MARC WOLEVER

Harold Johnson has been a part of the DMACC-Boone Campus for 20 years, including athletic director for 17 years.

Johnson keeps very busy throughout the school year. He's on the executive board of Iowa Junior College Activities Committee, director of the Bear Club, which raises money for the athletic fund, member of the scholarship board for DMACC, and the auxiliary committee which deals with the book store and manager of the concession sales.

"I enjoy all the work I'm involved with," Johnson said. He also carries a full teaching schedule in biology.

"I get total cooperation from the coaching staff, and I like to listen to their suggestions on certain matters, especially choosing game officials," he said.

Johnson is in charge of a fund raiser in cooperation with The J.C. Penney's stores. It was started last year to help raise money for the athletic fund. For every credit card application, Penney's donates $1 to Boone Campus.

The student body and faculty at Boone Campus make Johnson proud.

"Everyone gets involved and it makes my job easier when the students and faculty support the activities program," Johnson said.

Lady Bears Begin Practice

by MARC WOLEVER

This will be a rebuilding year for The Lady Bears, according to Coach Criner.

Other players include Jane Grote, Mandy Albertson, Julie Nieland, Terri Altmeir, Cheryl Richards, Sabra Borich, Nadine Richter, Kathy Fyler, Marilyn Cason, Nancy Slass and Brooke Kelly.

'I expect a good turnout from the girls,' Criner said.

The Lady Bears will host Marshalltown in their first game Monday, Nov. 18 at 6 p.m.

DMACC Keeps Up With The Times

by REBECCA FORDE

The Boone Campus will receive a new clock system within the next few weeks, according to Delbert Peter, supervisor of buildings and grounds.

New clocks are needed as the current system was damaged by lightning earlier this semester. Dean Kriss Philips said.

“Fixing all the clocks would cost almost the same as replacing them,” Philips added.

Peter said the new Simplex clocks are similar to the old ones in appearance, but they will be able to correct themselves and will also convert automatically to Daylight Savings Time.

Movie Review: “Commando”

by GUY MEEKER

Watch out, Rambo! That’s my view of Arnold Schwarzenegger’s new movie, “Commando.” If you enjoyed Sylvester Stallone in “Rambo-First Blood, Part II,” you will probably enjoy this show. The film is action packed with massive onslaught killings of bad guys and more adventure than you can shake a stick at.

Schwarzenegger portrays an ex-military hero, Col. John Matrix. Matrix has retired to the countryside with a new identity. One of his many missions for the CIA was to overthrow the government of Val Verde and place a new president in office.

Gen. Ernesto Arius, ex-dictator of Val Verde, kidnaps Matrix’s daughter and threatens to kill her if he doesn’t assassinate Pres. Velasques of Val Verde so he can retake control.

Sound confusing? Not really. Matrix finds himself in a no win situation and decides to go after his daughter instead of the president. The way Matrix does this is very interesting, although somewhat farfetched.

Go see it if you want to be amused and entertained.

Vaccinations At Boone Campus
by GUY MEEKER
Since measles and rubella continue to occur on American campuses, a concerted effort is being made by the colleges and the State Department of Health for the prevention and control of these diseases.

Des Moines Area Community College is requiring all full-time students born after 1956 to present documented proof of immunity to measles and rubella, according to a written statement distributed to students Friday, Oct. 11.

Boone Campus offered free vaccinations to students who needed them Oct. 11. The vaccination or the proper documented proof that they have received this booster is required in order to register for the spring semester.

Vaccinations were administered by Gertrude Schultze, school nurse. Schultze said she would return Monday, Nov. 4, to vaccinate anyone who missed the Oct. 11 vaccination.

“These vaccinations were issued because of the rising number of measles outbreaks on college campuses,” according to Schultze.

If you have any questions, call Schultze at 964-6352 or toll free at 1-800-362-2127, ext. 352.

Cold Weather Starting
During the cold days of winter, motorists should resist the temptation to pump the accelerator pedal when trying to start their vehicles’ engines.

To make the starting of a cold vehicle easier:
4. Check the owner’s manual for specific instructions which may apply to the vehicle.
5. Turn off all accessories before turning the ignition key. These include the radio, heater, lights, and windshield wipers.
6. Press the gas pedal to the floor once, then turn the key. (When starting an engine which is equipped with fuel injection, keep your foot off the accelerator.) Do not grind the starter for more than 15 to 20 seconds. If the vehicle does not start, start and make repeated attempts, allowing 30 to 45 seconds between tries.
7. If the carburetor floods (you’ll smell gas), turn off the ignition. Push the accelerator to the floor, holding it there for a full minute. With the pedal still on the floor, turn the starter.
8. Once started, warm the engine briefly at idle. Racing a cold engine causes severe wear in the engine, because of a lack of lubricant flow.

Starting the car while it is cold can cause misfires and other problems. To warm the engine, allow it to idle for 30 to 45 seconds. Never race a cold engine.

Nursing Rooms Still on Hold
by GUY MEEKER
Signs of construction can still be seen in the upstairs Nursing Department, even though the area is again being used for classes, according to Sharon Blaskey, secretary of the nursing program.

The nursing area, undergoing vast improvements since last summer, has yet to be completed. However, minor jobs such as hanging new curtains and bulletin boards and completing touch-up painting, are all that is left of the project.

This has not stopped the nurses from moving into the area, according to Blaskey.
She hopes the rooms will be completed by the end of October.
“All and all, our new area is very nice,” Blaskey said.

Bill Ryan Makes Science Interesting

by SUSAN HORSTMAN

(Teacher Feature will be a regular column in each issue of The Bear Facts. If you have a special teacher in mind you would like to see featured, contact a member of The Bear Facts staff.)

Science may not be a favorite subject for many students, but after taking a class taught by Bill Ryan, that attitude is subject to change!

Ryan is the DMACC-Boone Campus science teacher, which includes earth science, field biology, micro-biology, geography, and anatomy/physiology.

Before coming to Boone Campus in 1969, Ryan taught science at the high schools in Wabash Ind., Earlville, Ill., Osage and Boone. He is a graduate of Indiana University and UNI.

Ryan feels although there are excellent larger schools, a smaller school is often better as it offers that special, personal touch.

"I like to get to know my students and offer them help on an individual basis," he said.

Ryan's hobbies include hunting, gardening, golfing, traveling and spending time with his family.

Ryan's wife Donna is a clerk in the Boone Campus library. They have four children.
