Enrollment surpasses 1,000

DMACC, Boone Campus, is expecting to be the host of several events and guests this fall term, according to George Silberhorn, director of student services.

The visits began with a delegate from the Soviet Union September 11. Kriss Philips, executive dean, escorted Dr. Boris Zhogin, Strawropol, Soviet Union, on a tour of Boone, including Boone Campus. The Soviet was quite impressed with student's drive and determination. A second visit, Sept. 23-25, was planned to include lectures and other activities.

The month of September is always a busy one for college reps from the three regular Universities. Marcia Akers from the ISU College of Business will visit Wednesday, Sept. 26 at 10 a.m. and 2 p.m.

George Silberhorn escorted a group of sophomores on an all day outing to the UNI campus on September 20. Coming ahead in October will be an all day visit by reps from the three regular Universities. Mark Thursday, Oct. 24 on your calendar to meet with Greg Millar, ISU; Christie Kangas, UNI; and Patricia Wynn, U of I.

Also in October the ISU Singers are scheduled to perform Thursday, Oct. 18 at 7:30 p.m. in the auditorium. They always give a magnificent performance so try not to miss them!

Some of you may remember the hypnotist named Jim Wand, who appeared last year and impressed an excited audience by hypnotizing several students on stage, and many people in the audience. He's back again and will be doing his show on Friday, Nov. 9 at 9 a.m. It will be interesting to see what he has in store for Boone Campus this year.

Watch for more information in the next issue of The Bear Facts about the Boone Campus fall play, holiday events, and more.

Daycare center opens

A new daycare center is opening Monday Sept. 24, 1990. It will be operated by Open Bible Church (which is across the street south of Boone Campus).

They will offer child care for children ages 2 - 5 and also offer a preschool program. They especially wish to accommodate children of DMACC students.

Applications are available in the DMACC business office, from Maggie Stone in Room 128, or from Open Bible Church.

For additional information you may phone Open Bible Church at 452-3329, or Barb Plath, director, 275-4456.
Campus parking, is it a problem?

Is campus parking a problem? With the new parking lot that was just put into DMACC Boone Campus earlier this year, adding an extra 50 parking spaces, the answer to that question should be no.

But in my opinion, the honest answer is yes. I say this because it might prove to be hazardous during the first three days of school when students come and go all day from the campus. And parking has been a problem for at least two years. So digging up the beautiful grass to add the extra 50 spaces must have seemed like a well worth it sacrifice.

Students come and go all day from the campus, but if students coming don’t arrive at the time a class is ending they may be left with parking spaces several minutes away from their class, parking in a no parking zone or no parking space at all. In which case, what good is a parking permit?

DMACC campus requires all day students to obtain a parking permit. To avoid being ticketed or towed for violations, the school urges you to comply with the rules and regulations and have your vehicle registered prior to the beginning of a term.

And parking has been a problem for at least two years. So digging up the beautiful grass to add the extra 50 spaces must have seemed like a well worth it sacrifice.

But it was worth the effort? Appears to me like it’s still a big problem. When winter comes it will be even harder to find a parking space, and walking the distance may prove to be hazardous.

Kris Philips, executive dean, stated that the parking is tight but manageable and that it is closer to the school than others, such as ISU. He suggests that the students consider carpooling to save money and to allow for extra parking.

Dean Philips added that it isn’t easy but can be done. “You need to investigate by posting signs or asking other students in your classes,” he said.

You may contact the Student Life Center for assistance, whether you need a ride or are offering one. Boone Campus, constructed in 1968, is located on a 23 acre site and is comprised of two buildings—the academic building which includes a 500 seat auditorium, and the physical educational building.

I feel DMACC needs to expand its parking space to match the number of students it has already allowed to enroll and those of you who have yet to enroll. Dean Philips may think the parking situation is manageable, but with no parking expansion plan for the near future, I highly disagree.

Several Boone Campus students and faculty were recently asked what their favorite pastime this summer was. Here are their responses:

Bill Blanshan - Playing softball.

Jim Hoyle - Working with kids.

Karen Eubank - Sitting in the air conditioning.

Bonnie Langford - Being with her family.

Jackie Langford - Camping and fishing at South Lake.

Todd Pagen - Playing softball and partying.

Steve Clark - Fishing and watching his son play baseball.

Terry Fisher - Drinking beer with friends.

Nick Crivaro - Getting hammered at my brother’s wedding.

With the Middle East crisis still at hand and the U.S. still involved, there are quite a few opinions that people hold about the issue.

In this report, we spoke with Lee McNair, sociology instructor, and member of the National Guard Reserves. He had these points to make about the crisis:

- The American media has put too much emphasis on Saddam Hussein in this crisis.
- He participated in the crisis, but Saddam Hussein is not the issue.
- The U.S. may have to negotiate to get the rest of the hostages back.
- The big oil companies have too much control over the oil.
- The military has to stay ready.

McNair also said many Arabs support Hussein.

The American media has put too much emphasis on Saddam Hussein in this crisis. It may be a long-term effort to solve this problem," he added. We'll bring you comments from another Boone Campus faculty member next month.

What did you do for Labor Day?'

Pat Janz - Fishing, golfing and an occasional party.

John Green - Mowing lawns.

Judith Blackburn - Working and going out with friends.

Brenda Bishop - Taking a bath.

Kris Schiltz - Getting engaged.

Cathy Leo - Going to watch soap operas.

Camille Smith - Going to Germany on international travel marketing.

Wendy Smith - Worked in the kitchen.

Carmen Mead - Walked.

Sonja Faaborg - Lit a cigarette.

Paula Peterson - Fed horses.

Betty Baker - Painted ALL DAY.

Jeff Bergmann - Went canoeing.

Dawn Lucas - Sat in the hot sun.

Rod Potratz - Did my laundry.

Laurie Lambert - Worked in a kitchen.

Sonya Hanna - Played volleyball.

Gas Prices...insane?
By WADE GODWIN
Staff Writer

Gas prices across the United States are climbing. Anyone who drives a gas powered vehicle of any kind is painfully aware of this. Gas prices in this area have reached $1.40 per gallon (at presstime). At this rate, many students may not be able to afford to commute back and forth to school, or will at least feel the pinch. All because one little country decided to go in and take over another little country. Iraq is the antagonist of the problem in the eyes of everyone in the world. Kuwait is the country that everyone feels bad for because Iraq came in and conquered them. Fine, this all happened thousands of miles away from us and the good old U.S. pays for it. So, of course, we had to go over and try to stop the price of gas and oil from going up with our military power.

If we wanted to, we could go over and take Iraq in a heartbeat. If we did, oil and gas rates would go down, but the death rate on both sides would go up.

The world can’t understand why Iraq keeps up its tough guy ways when practically everyone is against them. Maybe Hussein loves the feeling of power; maybe he wants to go down in history; maybe he’s crazy. If he’s not crazy, I know for a fact the gas prices are, and if they don’t go down, I’ll go crazy trying to get to campus.

Several Boone Campus students were recently asked, “If you could change or add something to DMACC (the campus) what would it be?” Here are their responses:

Debbie Johns- Park the dirt road (southeast of Campus) and bigger desks.
Rudie Lewis- Snack bar open later during the day and at night.
Maria Ortiefeld- Bigger or another smoking room.
Teresa Paff- Larger smoking room.
Cynthia Ryan- Better ventilated smoking room.
Bill Blanshan- Dorms.

Jim Hoyle- Better ventilation in smoking room.
Marke Rinker- Add a TV to pool room.
Amy Gustafson- Pave dirt road.
Terry Fisher- New dress code.
Scott Lundquist- More girls.
Tina Hardy- Vocal music program.

Students returned to Boone Campus for fall semester, resulting in a full-house in the parking area.

How does the cost of gas affect you?
by DODI O'LENA
Staff Writer

Several Boone Campus students were recently asked, “How far do you commute to school, round trip, and what problem will you be faced with if the cost of gasoline keeps rising?”

I commute approximately 5 miles and one of many problems that I will be faced with is the fact that I can barely afford it now and if it keeps going up I will just have to start staying home.

This is what other students had to say:

Soniya Buendia: 11 miles; “my entertainment will be limited.”
Tina Hardy: 5 miles; “I’ll have to work more.”
Corey Vespeted: 42 miles; “I’ll have less money to party with.”
Laurie Runyan: 18 miles; “I won’t be able to afford anything.”
Abbie Mullins: 10 miles; “I’ll have no spending money.”
Kym Crowdy: 8 miles; “I won’t drive, I’ll ride a bike or walk.”
Judy Blackburn: 60 miles; “I’ll have to get a job and maybe carpool.”

Recycling Center opens

Boone-area students soon will have a chance to help the environment on the local level.

Walters Recycling Center of 1424 W. Mamie Eisenhower Ave. in Boone opened Monday, Sept. 17. The center developed in response to local inquiries regarding recycling, environmental concerns and clipping environmental concerns and Iowa’s landfill volume reduction requirements.

"Many people want to recycle," said Jim Walters. "They say they’re willing to separate their recyclables, but regret that there’s no place locally to take them. They say we’re the natural ones to operate a recycling center because we have the space and because we already collect much of the area’s solid waste."

The new recycling center will accept white paper, newspaper, glass, plastics and corrugated cardboard. Walters Recycling will reward contributors with an "I recycle" car window sticker.

Recycling is easy. Participants just drop their clean recyclables in the appropriately labeled containers at the recycling center. A center representative will be there to answer questions.

Recycling center hours are Monday-Friday from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. and Saturday from 8 a.m. to 1 p.m. Walters Recycling also will place collection containers for mixed recyclables in Madrid, Ogden and Greenfield.

"The recycling center is our way to help ease the environmental problem created by the needless waste of our natural resources," Walters said.

Snack bar offers breakfast, lunch items

The DMACC snack bar is back in full swing, satisfying the hunger pangs of many students and faculty.

Customers can come and get a continental breakfast at opening time, 7:15, and continue to get a very tasty lunch up till 1:00. A lunch could be anything from lasagna to a pork fritter.

The workers, Dorene Buckingham, Vicki Leve, Rosemary Stickney, and work study student Terri McGriff, usually have three main courses planned a day. A soup, sandwich, and a hot main course are usually available.

The crew will be attending a food fair next month and might have some new ideas for the menu.

Reusable Mugs Environmentally-Conscious

Snack bar customers will be happy to know that reusable mugs will be sold this semester.

The initial cost will be $1.50, with refills available the rest of the semester at $2.25 for coffee, and $3.50 for pop.

The mugs bear the "Earth Day" symbol. The mug project is sponsored by the Student Action Board (SAB).
Rotaract Club seeks members

by ANGELA FARRELL
Staff Writer

Are you the type of student that enjoys being of service to your community? If you answered yes, then Lee McNair and the Rotaract Club would like for you to join. Take a closer look and see for yourself what background this highly respected club has!

Rotaract branched off Rotary International, in the late 1960s. (Rotary started as a professional and businessmens club in 1905, and began admitting women in 1988). Rotaract has hundreds of clubs on every continent, (except Antarctica). Rotaract has served as a professional and businessmens club since its beginning over 20 years ago.

Rotaract has been an organization for both college men and women since its beginnings. Rotaract began at Boone Campus in October, 1982. This fall, the Rotaract club has approximately 8 students returning from last year. Membership is open to all college students who are interested in serving the campus and community.

New members are welcome! Evident officers will occur in October after old and new members have had a chance to get to know one another.

NSU begins activities

Nursing Students United (NSU) will begin activities for the 1990-91 school year with a potluck luncheon Tuesday, Sept. 25.

The organization's officers are Paula Peterson, president; Jim Bever, vice president; Mike Pepper, secretary; and Sherry Sargent, treasurer. Club adviser is Connie Booth. Watch for more NSU activities in coming issues of The Bear Facts.

Drama Club seeks members

Interested in acting? Set construction? Costumes? Lights? Advertising? Join the Drama Club and/or enroll in theatre productions! A fall and spring play are produced! All talent and non-talent is welcomed. Auditions for the fall play are Monday, Sept. 24 and Tuesday, Sept. 25 at 3 p.m. in the auditorium.

Come join the fun and help with the play!

Phi Beta Lambda, better known as PBL, is a business organization consisting of over 210,000 active members in 10,000 chapters worldwide. Though the majority of the membership is female, males are invited to join and compete in the various contests involving business presentations. This year the theme at these conferences is: Proud To Be An American.

PBL, for those of you who are unfamiliar with the organization, is the college division of Future Business Leaders of America.

The advisor for the group is Mary Jane Green and if you would like to know more about PBL, or if you are considering becoming a member of this fine group of business leaders, contact her in Room #212. You could also find out more about what they do by asking a PBL member or attending a meeting. They meet on Tuesdays at 12:30 p.m. once a month. Scheduled meetings are: October 16, November 6, and December 4.

More will be written about PBL in later issues, including the recent election of officers. They're a busy organization, so if it's action you seek, find out about joining!

Rezoomers welcome 35 on opening day

The Rezoomers Club welcomed 35 adult students on opening day of classes with free coffee and cookies. The purpose of the organization is to provide support to all adults who are resuming their education. The infor-mal lunch-time meetings provide the opportunity to share information and get better acquainted with others who are juggling school along with many other responsibilities. Students may drop in anytime between 11:30 a.m. and 1 p.m. at the Library Conference Room 131 on the first Wednesday and the third Tuesday of each month.

Sunny Powers, director of the Learning Assistance Center, will speak to the group on “Test Anxiety,” Oct. 3.

Other speakers and programs of interest will be announced throughout the year.

All adult students are encouraged to attend the Rezoomer meetings. October meetings will be Wednesday, October 3, and Tuesday, October 16. Watch for posters around campus or contact club sponsor, Maggie Stone, in Room 128 for further information.

Scout's Day for Boone Bears

By WADE GODWIN
Sports Writer

The DMACC Bears are 39 players strong this fall, with a high number of players back from last season, according to John Smith, head coach.

There are 14 players on the team that are either returning or transfers from another school. A strong pitching staff that includes many freshmen, with a center nucleus of four returning pitchers, will be a high point for the Bears.

This fall, the Bears will scrimmage Iowa State and Grandview College twice, and will have intrasquad scrimmages Wednesdays and Thursdays.

A scout's day was held Sept. 9 with many college and university scouts on hand to watch the Bears in action.

Coach Smith is very optimistic about the upcoming season, and says the fall workouts are going along smoothly with the players responding well.

Good luck to the DMACC baseball team in the upcoming season!

Students frustrated with parking

by ANGIE FARRELL
Staff Writer

How easy has it ever been to find a student parking space in the Boone DMACC area? A typical student answer, IMPOSSIBLE!

There were however, 50 new parking stalls completed north of the academic building, sometime at the end of July, making a total of 364 stalls. Funding for the project came from the DMACC Physical Plant budget.

With the escalation of the enrollment this fall semester, the school is "hurting for parking" as Paula Towbridge, dean’s secretary, puts it.

And, sometimes students will go beyond school rules to make themselves a space. This is when tickets to students are issued.

With no set time for monitoring of the parking lot, there are some students who find themselves breaking some common parking rules.

Students are reminded that there is to be no parking in the south lot; these spaces are for faculty, staff, and visitors only. Fire lanes and handicapped spaces are monitored also. Cars parked in the street marked in yellow, in the grass, or in parking spaces for the handicapped, are also in violation.

According to the DMACC college catalog, “Every vehicle is required to display one fully attached valid parking registration permit in accordance with the Parking and Traffic Rules and Regulations.

“Permits are valid for one year, from fall semester until the next fall semester. Permits and regulations are available at no cost from the Business Offices at Boone. Each driver is required to know and comply with the rules and regulations of the college. Failure to comply will be cause to issue a traffic violation ticket.”

“Ankeny, Boone, Carroll, and Urban Campuses have parking lots assigned to staff, students, and visitors. Pedestrians on campus have the right-of-way at all times.”

Student environmental activists join together to launch green decade

Thousands of student environmental activists from all 50 states and several foreign countries will gather at CATALYST: The National Student Environmental Conference, October 5-7, 1990 at the University of Illinois, Champaign-Urbana campus.

Confirmed speakers for the plenary sessions include Ralph Nader, consumer and environmental advocate.
Students comment on recycling efforts
by Karol Hicks
Staff Writer
Several Boone Campus students were recently asked how they feel about recycling and if they recycle at home. Here are their responses:
Abby Anderson - I do recycle plastic, cans, and paper. I believe it’s necessary if we wish to exist on this planet.
Kathy Sprague - I don’t recycle, I think it’s a waste of time.
Jule Smith - I don’t recycle because I don’t have time to do it after studying and working.
Dodi O’Lena - It’s a good idea, but it’s a nuisance. I do recycle cans but not plastic.
Judy Barrow - I don’t recycle at home, but it is a good idea. I’m not used to separating my trash.
Tom Hope - I recycle cans and newspapers. It’s a very good idea because landfills are filling up too quickly.
Jo Dieter - It’s an excellent idea and I recycle at home and at work. We recycle milk cartons, cans, foil, glass, plastics, and white paper.
Cheryl Bearden - I think it’s a real pain to do but it’s worthwhile because we’re running out of room for our trash. We recycle newspapers and plastic at home.
Steve Clark - I believe in recycling plastics since they are not biodegradable. I recycle cans.
Joan Swanson - People should be recycling more things and more people should take part. I save my plastic and newspapers but can’t find a drop-off for them in Ames.
Kathleen Lewis - Recycling should be made easier for us. Yes, I recycle cans and bottles and I never buy milk in plastic jugs.
Alfie Elkattan - I feel recycling is essential in order to avoid the elimination of our natural resources. I recycle paper products, conserve water by collecting rain water and showering together, recycle cans, plastics, just about everything.
Steve Clark - I believe in recycling plastics since they are not biodegradable. I recycle cans.
Kevin Laubscher - I believe strongly in recycling but it’s a pain. If there were receptacles to collect recyclables I’d do it.
Dennis Ege - I recycle aluminum, and when out hunting or fishing, I clean up the rivers and parks of their plastic.
Bob Tugge - I think it’s long overdue, and our “throw-away society” just doesn’t work. I take my recyclables to wherever it’s picked up.
Bret Morgan - I recycle cans. It’s a good idea but it takes some time to get used to.
Sandra Simmons - I recycle actively, and have for the last five years. I take all my newspaper, while paper, glass, cans, and plastics to the Ames recycling center on E. Lincolnway.
Sonja Faaborg - I believe in it, but don’t always put it in practice. I recycle cans, bottles, and milk jugs.
DeNette Carl - I try to recycle, but have had a hard time finding drop-off places. I don’t use paper towels or napkins, and I stay away from chemical cleaners.
Chris Shaffer - I buy recycled paper products from companies who help with the preservation of the environment.
Kay Williams - It’s a good idea but I don’t always practice it.
Jule Dodd - I don’t recycle at all, but it’s a good idea.
Cathy Peterson - I think it’s very worthwhile. I recycle paper sacks, milk jugs, and take my cans to the redemption center.
Shannon Gameel - It’s worthwhile and I’ll do my share, but it’s a lot of work. I recycle much, but I am very careful with the use of school paper. I also don’t buy canned pop.

Board meeting
The DMACC Board of Directors will conduct its regular organizational meeting Tuesday, Oct. 8 at 4 p.m. at Boone Campus.
The meeting is open to the public.

Queen Regina

DMACC-Boone Campus student Regina Gilliam, 20, was named Miss IMCA at the International Motor Competition Association’s pageant in Boone earlier this month. Runners-up were Jodie Moore, of Nevada, and Lisa Kaplan, Ankeny. Regina’s hobbies include racing, playing piano, and sports. She also works at Hy-Vee. Regina commented, “I’m Motor Competition Association’s pageant in Boone about being queen — it’s going to be a lot of fun!” To begin her duties, Regina rode in the

Poetry contest announced

The deadline for the American Poetry Association’s contest is September 30. The contest is open to everyone, and entry is free. The grand prize is $1,000, and the first prize is $500. There are 152 prizes worth $11,000 in all. Entries must be postmarked by September 30. A new contest opens October 1.

You don’t have to be a professional poet. Your sincerity, originality and feeling are what the judges look for,” he said.

Poets should send one original poem, no more than 20 lines, name and address on the top of the page to American Poetry Association, Dept. CO-84, 250-A Potrero St., P.O. Box 1803, Santa Cruz, CA 95061.

DMACC purchases classroom on wheels

by KAROL HICKS
Staff Writer

The DMACC Mobile Training Center was at Boone for display purposes from 12:30 to 2:30 Thursday, Sept. 6. Faculty and staff were invited to view the inside during that time, and this reporter also went aboard to take a quick look.

At a cost of over $110,000 it serves eleven counties and can offer everything from 10-key to robotics. (A portion of the cost was paid through a grant from Amoco Oil Co.) When fully equipped, (the target date is set for October 1, 1990) it will contain 14 computers, and seven robotic arms. The bus will be used for computer training and skill/career assessments, but can also serve a variety of educational purposes.

Beth Koenig, Ankeny was on board Sept. 6 to answer any questions posed about the future respects for the mobile classroom.

For more information on training available, and/or scheduling, call 1-800-248-4413, and ask for Jerry Collingwood's secretary, Roberta Meyer.

The DMACC Mobile Training Center may be used for training, retraining, and assessment activities to serve business enterprises, governmental agencies, communities, and individuals throughout Central Iowa.

The Mobile Training Center staff has access to the full resources of DMACC to meet a variety of training requests.

It is available weekdays, evenings, and weekends.

It will serve the following counties: Audubon, Boone, Carroll, Dallas, Guthrie, Jasper, Madison, Marion, Polk, Story and Warren.

DMACC Arts Day

The DMACC-Boone Campus Music, Theatre, and Visual Arts Department will host Arts Day, Wednesday, Oct. 31, for area high school students.

The events include:
- Workshops to help students in theatre (storytelling), art portfolios for college, and music contest tips.
- Performances showcasing DMACC faculty talent
- Lunch

Arts Day will be conducted from 9:30 to 1 in the auditorium. If you know of a high school group that may be interested in attending, they may call Kay Mueller at 452-7203.

ISU Singers perform here

The ISU Singers will perform at Boone Campus Thursday, Oct. 18 at 7:30 p.m. in the auditorium. All are invited to attend!
