THE BEAR FACTS

BOONE JUNIOR COLLEGE

FEBRUARY 12, 1965

"Love is a many splendored thing," at any time, but it is especially so on February 14 which is universally known as St. Valentine's Day.

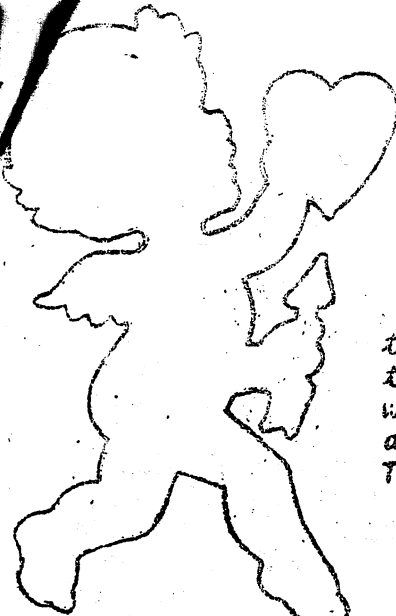

Many of us will no doubt look back into our younger school days and remember that certain someone for whom we saved our best valentine. Boys seem to be embarrassed the most on this day while the girls appear to thrive on and radiate from that special little card signed by that special someone's mother.

A number of years have passed since we partook in festivities of that nature, but love is still a very important factor in our daily lives, for there exists in the human being a certain desire to be loved and in return to love.

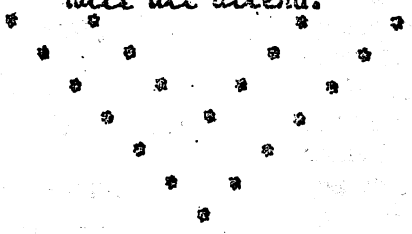

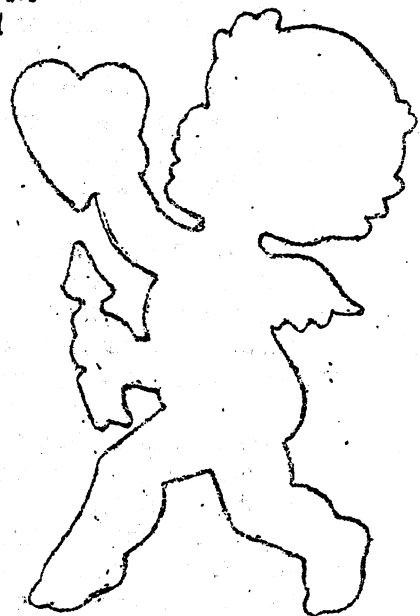

Love takes the shape of many forms: parental love, family love, brotherly love, love of nature, love of country, etc. It is reflected in our thoughts, words, and deeds. Love knows no boundaries; it is universal.

This universality of love is something which individuals the world over tend to forget at times and it is in this forgetfulness that the wars and conflicts of the world breed hatred, jealousy, and suspicion. But these latter emotions or states of mind perhaps would not exist as much if everyone dared to live the words of Richter—

"Love one human being purely and warmly, and you will love all."

All students and faculty members are cordially invited to attend the BJC Blue and White Ball on February nineteenth, nineteen hundred and sixty-five. The dance is to be held at the Legion Cabin in Boone from eight thirty to twelve o'clock. A combo from Storm Lake will provide the music for dancing. Door prizes are also being planned for those who will be attending. Tickets are being sold for one dollar per couple or fifty cents per person and they may be purchased from Jim Grabau, Jane Blee, or Judy Peters. The Plans for the event were made by chairman Jane Blee and her committees were in charge of Judy Peters (decoration), Jim Grabau (tickets), Connie Mondt (music), and Chuck Hammond (publicity). The dance will serve as the winter social function of the school and it is hoped that the students and faculty will all attend.

Saint Valentine, the patron saint of all lovers, is believed to have been an Italian bishop who on February 14, 272 A.D., was martyred. Throughout the centuries after his death the custom of celebrating a feast of his honor survived the passage of time. Today we still observe the date but with less emphasis on the saint and the feast by sending "valentines" or tokens of an amatory nature. Other authorities believe that on this date the birds began to mate, but this belief stems from a very ancient pagan myth.

ATTENTION ALL GIRL STUDENTS: Miss Janet Patterson from the Moser Secretarial School in Chicago will be a guest at the Junior College on February 25. Miss Patterson will give a talk on the requisitions of a good secretary along with pointers on good grooming and charm. The talk will began at 9:30 and all who would like to attend are cordially invited to do so.

DELTA TAU DELEGATES ATTEND ISEA
ASSEMBLY

Alternate Kathy Evans and delegate Jan Eshouse attended the Student ISEA Convention in Des Moines on February 4 and 5. Sponsor Mrs. Barquist also attended the ISEA delegate assembly. The theme for the convention was "Crossroads and Intersections".

Regular meetings and addresses were made at the Hotel Fort Des Moines. Thursday afternoon the students toured Salisbury House which is the headquarters for ISEA.

A banquet was held on Thursday evening at Younkers Tea Room with a group of Des Moines teachers providing the musical entertainment. Guest speaker for the evening was Mrs. Beulah Fontaine.

Following the banquet and entertainment SISEA members enjoyed the casual hour held at the Hotel Fort Des Moines. The hour was entitled "A Night at Treasure Island" which was highlighted with the entertaining being done by a folk singer.

Friday morning the Des Moines teachers sponsored a breakfast at Bishops after which the group traveled to the capital where they toured the buildings and visited the State Legislature.

The afternoon session consisted of group discussion in "The Problems of Special Concern to Students".

The convention was closed with Nancy Tanner giving the President's Address "Glorious Gray" and then the new officers were installed.
